Such as doe feare the subtiltie of Sheriffes, shall deliuer their writtes original and iudiciall in the open countie, or againe in the shire, where the collection of the kinges money is, and may take of the sherife or vndersherife being present a bill, wherein the names of the demaundauntes and tenauntes mentioned in the writte, shall be conteyned, and at the request of him that deliuered the writte, the seale of the sherife or vndersherife shall be put to the bill for a testimonie, and mention shall be made of the day of the deliuerance of the writte. And if the sherife will not returne writs deliuered vnto him, and complaint there of be made to the Iustices, a writte iudiciall shall goe vnto the Iusticers assigned to take assises, that they shall inquire by such as were present at the deliueraunce of the writte to the sherife, if they knewe of the deliueraunce, and the inquest shalbe retourned. And the king hath commanded, that sherifes shalbe punished by the Iustices once or twise (if neede bee) for such false returnes. And if they offend the third time, none shall haue to doe therewith but the king. They make also many times false answeres, returning that they could not execute the kings precept, for the resistãce of some great man: wherefore let the sherifes beware from henceforth, for such maner of answeres redound much to the dishonour of the king and of his crowne. And if he do finde them true, he shall punish the resisters by imprisonment, from whence they shall not bee deliuered, without the kinges speciall commaundement. FOrasmuch as the peace of this realme hath bene weakely kept heretofore for lacke of quicke and fresh suit making after Felons in due maner, and namely because of franchises, where the Felons are receiued: it is prouided, that all generally be ready and apparailed at the commaundement and summons of shirifes, and at the crie of the countrey, to pursue and arrest Felons (when any nede is) as well within franchise as without, and they that will not so do, and ther of be attainted, shal make a greeuous fine to the king. Archbiſhop Conſecrated

And it was further enacted by the ſaid act, that euery archbiſhop and biſhop being named & preſented by the kings highnes his heires and ſucceſſours kinges of England, and being conſecrated and inueſted as is aforeſaid, ſhalbe inſtalled accordingly, and ſhould be accepted, taken & reputed, vſed and obeyed, as an archbiſhop or biſhop of the dignitie, ſea or place whereunto he ſhalbe ſo named, preſented and conſecrated as other like prelats of ỳ prouince, ſea or dioces haue bin vſed, accepted, taken & obeyed, which haue had & obteined compleetely their buls and other things requiſite in that behalfe from the ſea of Rome, and alſo ſhould fully and entirely haue & enioy all the ſpiritualties & temporalties of the ſaid archbiſhoprike, or biſhoprike, in as large, ample and beneficial maner, as any of his or their predeceſſors had or enioyed in the ſaide archbiſhoprike or biſhoprike, ſatisfying and yeelding vnto ỳ kings highnes, & to his heires & ſucceſſors, all ſuch duties, righes and inueſts as before time hath bin accuſtomed to be paid for any ſuch archbiſhoprike or biſhoprike, according to the ancient lawes and cuſtomes of this realme, and the kings prerogatiue roial, as in the ſaid act amongſt other things is more at large mentioned. rolle of this present Parliament more at large is conteined. And for as much as in the said act it is not plainely and certainly expressed, in what maner and fashion Archbishops and Bishops shal be elected, presented, inuested and consecrated within this realme, and in all other the kings dominions: Bee it now therefore enacted, by the king our soueraigne lorde, by the assent of the Lords spirituall and temporall, and the commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by authoritie of the same, that the saide act, and euery thing therein contained, shal be and stand in strength, vertue & effect, except onely that no person or persons hereafter shall be presented, nominated or commended to the said bishop of Rome, otherwise called the Pope, or to the sea of Rome, to or for the dignitie or office of any archbishop or Bishop, within this realme, or in any other the kings dominions, nor shall send nor procure therefore any maner of bulles, breues, palles, or other things requisite for an Archbishop or Bishop, nor shall pay any summes of money for annats, first fruites, or otherwise for expedition of any such bulles, breues or palles, but that by the authoritie of this acte such presenting, nominating or commending to the said Bishop of Rome, or to the sea of Rome, and such bulles, breues, palles, annates, first fruits, & euery other summes of money heretofore limited, accustomed or vsed to be paid at the said sea of Rome, for procuration or expedition of any such bulles, breues, or palles, or other thing concerning the same, shall vtterly cease, and no longer be vsed within this realme or within any the kinges dominions, any thing conteined in ỳ said act afore mencioned, or any vse, custome, or prescription to ỳ cõtrary thereof notwithstanding.

First fruites

And furthermore be it ordeined and established by the authoritie aforesaid, that at euery ordinãce of any archbishoprick or bishoprick within this realme, or in any other the kings dominions, the king our soueraigne lorde his heyres and successors may graunt ỳ priour and couent, or the Deane and Chapiter of the cathedrall churches or monasteries, where the sea of such archbishoprick or bishoprick shall happen to be voyd, a licence vnder the great seale, as of olde time hath bene accustomed, to proceede to election of any archbishop or bishoppe of the sea so being void with a letter missiue, conteining the name of the person which they shall elect and chose: by vertue of which licence, the said deane and chapter, or priour and couent, to whom any such licence and letters missiues shalbe directed, shal with al speede and celeritie in due forme elect, and chuse the said person named in ỳ said letters missiues to the dignitie and office of the archbishoprick so being voide and none other. And if they doe or differre or delay their election aboue xii. dayes next after such licence and letters missiues to them deliuered, that then for euery such default the kings highnes his heires and successours, at their libertie and pleasure, shall nominate & present by their letters patents vnder their great seale, such person to the saide office and dignitie, so being voyde, as they shall thinke able and conuenient for the same. And that euery such nomination and presentment to be made by the kings highnesse his heires & successours, if it be to the office and dignitie of a bishop, shall be made to the archbishop and metropolitan of the prouince where the sea of the same bishoprick is voyd, if the sea of the said archbishoppe be then full and not voyde: and if it be voide, then to be made to such archbishop or metropolitan within this realme, or in any the kinges dominions as shall please the kings highnesse, his heires or successors. And if any such nomination or presentment shall happen to be made for default of such elections to the dignitie or office of any archbishop, then the kinges highnesse, his heires and successors, by his letters patentes vnder his great seale shall nominate & present such person as they will depose to haue the said office and dignitie of the archbishoprick being voyde, to one such archbishop, and two such bishops, or els to foure such bishops in this realme, or in any the kings dominiõs, as shall

And be it enacted by the authoritie aforesayde, that whensoeuer any such preſentment or nomination shalbe made by the kings highneſſe, his heires or succeſſours, by vertue and authoritie of this act, and according to the tenour of the same, that then euery archbishop and bishop, to whose handes any such preſentment & nomination shall be directed, shall with all speede and celeritie, inueſt, and conſecrate the person nominate and preſented by the kinges highneſſe his heires or succeſſours, to the office and dignitie that such person shall be so preſented vnto, and giue and vſe to him palle and all other benedictions, ceremonies and thinges requiſite for the same, without suing, procuring, or obteining hereafter any buls or other things at the sea of Rome, for any such office or dignitie in any behalfe. 4 ¶ Forasmuch as great care hath bene heretofore taken for maintenance of good strength and force vpon the borders and frontiers against Scotland, and to the end that Inhabitants and Tenants there, might be better able, and more encouraged for the defence of the same borders, when any occasion should be offered in that behalfe, all charges of Subsidies and taxes haue bene borne, to be laied or charged vpon the sayde Inhabitants, and for like respect it hath bene heretofore also vsed in diuers places within the Cõtries of Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmerland, and the Bishoprieke of Durham, that diuers, and a great part of the inhabitants there, haue enioyed their Tenements and Fermeholdes in diuers fauourable sortes and formes of tenure. And for that the Queenes Maiestie hath of late yeres bene oftentimes informed by report and certificate of her principall officers hauing charge of her borders, that the force of her sayd borders both of horsemen and footemen are greatly decayed, and likely daily to growe weaker by many occasions, and among other by decay and ruine of sundry the habitations of those borders, whereby the number of the auncient inhabitants able for seruice, haue bene diminished, and that part of the same Habitations, Tenauncies and Farmes, haue bene reduced rather to pasturing of cattel, then to the maintenance of men of seruice: And that also in some parties the Tenaunts and Inhabitaunts themselues haue diminished their owne strength, by diuiding their houses and farmes, which were meete onely for one able householder & family, into ỹ occupation of sundry persõs cõmonly being their Children or other kinsfolkes, So as by the smalnesse and meanenesse of the holding, no one of them is able to furnish a man for seruice: And that also diuers owners and tenaunts vpon the borders, haue for more gaine then they could haue of naturall Subiects, letten their Lands or feedings, or some part thereof to Scottishmen, thereby not only weakening the strength of her Maiesties naturall Subiects, but strengthening Forreners.

For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the authoritie of this present Parliament, that the Queenes Maiestie shall and may from time to time, as neede shall require, by Commission vnder the great Seale of England, make and appoint such and so many Commissioners as to her Maiestie shall be thought conuenient, giuing vnto them or fiue of them (whereof two to be of Quorum) full power and authoritie in all and euery of the said Counties of Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmerland, and the Countie Palantine of Durham, or in any one of them, or in any part of any of thē, to inquire by the othes of twelue men or moe, or by other good meanes according to their discretions, what tenauncies and houses of habitacions bee since the seuen and twentieth yere of king Henry the eight ruined and decayed, and not held or occupied by men able to serue as horsemen or footemē, according to the auncient duetie of those tenauncies, and in like maner to examine and search out the full or probable causes of those ruines and decaies, and of the wants and euill furnitures of the sayde horsemen and footemen, and to giue order and direction for reformation thereof with all speede reasonable. ¶ Seruice and sacraments.

THe King perceiuing that many arrogant and ignorant men doe peruert many things well and godly instituted, and namely in the most comfortable Sacrament of the body and blood of our Sauiour Jesus Christ, commonly called the Sacrament of the Aultar, and in Scripture, the Supper and Table of the Lord, the Communion & partaking of the body and blood of Christ, which sacrament was instituted of no lesse author then of our Sauiour both God and man, when at his last supper among his Apostles, he did take the bread into his holy hands and did say, Take you & eate: This is my body which is giuen and broken for you. And taking vp the Chalice or Cup did giue thanks and say, This is my blood of the newe Testament which is shed for you & for many, for the remission of sinnes, that whosoeuer we should doe the same, we should doe it in the remembrance of him, and to declare and set forth his death and most glorious passion vntill his comming. Of which bread whosoeuer eateth, or of the which Cup whosoeuer drinketh vnworthely, eateth and drinketh condemnation and iudgement to him selfe, making no difference of the Lords body. The institution of which Sacrament being ordeyned by Christ as is aforesaide, and the said words spoke of it here before rehearsed, being of eternall, infallible and vndoubted trueth, yet the sayde Sacrament hath bene of late maruellously abused by the sayde persons, concerning the whole thing for certaine abuses heretofore committed therein, reuiling it, and disputing vngodly of that most holy mysterie, and calling it by vile and vnseemely words: For reformation whereof, Be it ec. Forasmuch as by that braunche of the sayd statute, it was wel intended & meant to meete with the fraude of strangers and other, which brought into this Realme great quantitie of coddes and linges de-ceitfully packed in barrels, & not meant to hinder any the Queenes maiesties sub-iectes, vsing vprightnesse & trueth in the barrelling of such fish: May it therefore please your Maiestie, that it bee further enacted by thauctoritie aforesaid, that af-ter the feast of Easter, which shalbe in the yere of our lord God 1575. it shalbe law-full frō thēceforth to al your Maiesties lo-uing subiectes, borne within this realme, or within any other your Maiesties do-minions, (vsing no fraude or deceite in packing or barrelling therof) for ỳ terme of sixe yeeres next ensuing, to bring into Bring this realme, or any other your highnesse Coddes Linges dominions, all such coddes & linges, as they shal happen to take vpon the Sea by their owne fishing in vessels with crosse sayles, without incurring any forfaiture or penalty therfore: any thing in ỳ said act cōteined to the contrary notwithstāding.

These onely beeing excepte, whose auncestours or they themselues, haue vsed to doe such suit before the first voyage of the sayde king Henry into Britaine, sithence which xxxix. yeres and an halfe are passed vnto the time that these statutes were enacted. Likewise from henceforth none that is infeoffed without deede from the time of the conquest, or any other auncient settlemẽt, shalbe distreyned to do such suites, vnles that he or his auncestors vsed to doe it before the sayde voyage. And they that are infeoffed by deede to doe a certayne seruice, as for seruice of so many shillings by yere, to be acquitted of all seruice frõ henceforth shall not bee bounden to such suites or other like, cõtrary vnto ỹ forme of their feoffemẽt. And if any inheritance (whereof but on suite is due) discend vnto many heires, as to parceners, who so that hath the eldest part of the inheritãce shall do that one suit for himselfe and his fellowes, and the other coheires shall bee contributaries according to the portion for doing such suit. And if many feoffees be seised of any inheritãce, (whereof but one suit is due) ỹ Lord of the fee shal haue but that one suit, & shall not exact of the said inheritance but that one suit, as hath beene vsed to be done before. And if those feoffees haue no warrãt or meane which ought to acquite them, then all the feffees according to their portion, shall be contributaries for doing the suite of them. And if it chaunce that the lordes of the fee doe distrayne their tenaunts for such suites, contrary to this act: then at the cõplaint of the tenaunts, the lords shalbe attached to appeare in the kinges court at a short day, to make answere thereto, and shall haue but one essoyne therein (if they bee within the realme.) And immediatly the beasts or other distresses taken by this occasion, shalbe deliuered to the plaintifes, and so shal remaine vntil the plea betwixt them be determined. And if the lordes of the courtes, which tooke distresses, come not at the day that they were attached, or do not keepe the day giuen to them by essoyner then the sherifes shalbe commaunded to cause them to come at another day, at which day if they come not, then he shal be cõmanded to distraine them by all the goods and tattelles, that they haue in the shire, so that the sherife shal answere to the king of the issues of the sayd inheritance, And that he haue their bodies before our Justicers at a certaine day limitted. And in a writte of right, it is prouided, that if the tenant vouch to warrantie, and the demandant will counterpleade him, and be ready to auerre by the countrey, that he that is vouched, nor his auncеſtours, had neuer ſeyſon of the land or tenement demaunded, fee or ſeruice by the hands of the tenant of his auncеſtors, ſince the time of him, on whoſe ſeiſon the demandant declareth, vntill the time that the writ was purchaſed, and the plea moued, whereby he might haue infeoffed the tenant or his auncеſtours: Then let the auerment of the demandant be receiued, if the tenant will abide thereupon, and if not, the tenant ſhalbe further compelled vnto an other anſwere, if he be not preſent that will warrant him freely, and incontinent enterie in anſwere. 4 ¶ When any demaundeth land against an other, and the party that is impleaded, voucheth to warrantie, and the warrantour denieth his warranty, and the plea hangeth long betweene the tenaunt and the warrantour: And at length when it is tryed, that the vouchee is bound to warrantie by the lawe and custome of the realme hitherto vsed, there was none other punishment assigned for ỳ vouchee, that denied his warrantie, but onely that he should warrantise, & should be amerced, because he did not warraunt before, which was preiudicial vnto the demaundaunt, because hee suffered often times great delayes by collusion betweene the tenaunt and the warrantour: Wherefore our soueraigne lord the king hath ordeined, that like as the tenaunt should loose the land being in demaund, in case where he vouched, and the vouchee could discharge himselfe of the warrantie, in the same wise shall the warrantour loose, in case where he denieth his warrantie, and it bee found and tried against him that he is bounden to warrantise. Obligation

* 7 Where in the xxvii. peere of the raigne of the late king Henry the eyght, (before 6.) amongst other actes and statutes then made, it was enacted by auctoritie of Parliament, that no person or persons at any time after the last daye of January, in the sayde xxvii. peere, shoulde haue, receyue, accept, or take in lucre, or gaynes, for the lone, forbearing, or giuing day of payment of any summe of money, for one whole peere, aboue the summe of ten pounde in the hundred, and so after that rate, and not aboue, of, and for a more, or lesse summe, or for longer or shorter time, vpon the paynes and forfaitures in the said act mentioned and conteined. The which act was not meant or entended for the maynteynaunce and allowance of Vsury, as diuers persons, blynded with inordinate loue of themselues, haue and yet do mistake the same, but rather was made and intended against all sortes and kindes of vsury, as a thing vnlawfull, as by the tytle and preamble of the sayde acte it doeth playnely appeare. And yet neuertheless the same was by the sayde acte permitted, for the auoyding of a more euill and inconuenience, that before that time was vsed and exercised. But forasmuch as Vsury is by the worde of God vtterly prohibited, as a vice most odious and detestable, as in diuers places of the holie Scripture it is euident to bee seene, which thing by no godly teachinges and perswasions can synke into the heartes of diuers greedy, vncharitable, and couetous persons of this Realme, nor yet by any terrible threatninges of Gods wrath and vengeaunce, that iustly hangeth ouer this Realme, for the great and open vsury therein dayly vsed and practised, they will forsake such fylthie gayne and lucre, vnlesse some temporall punishment bee prouided and ordayned in that behalfe. For reformation whereof bee it enacted by the auctoritie of this present Parliament, that from the first day of May, which shall be in the yeere of our Lorde God a thousand, fiue hundred, fiftie and two, the said acte and statute, concerning onely vsury, lucre, or gaynes, of, or for the lone, forbearing, or giuing dates of any summe or summes of money, be vtterly abrogated, voyde, and repealed.

And furthermore bee it enacted by the auctoritie aforesayde, that from and after the sayde first daye of May next comming, no person or persons, of what estate, degree, qualitie, or condition soeuer hee, or they bee, by any corrupt, colourable, or deceitful cõueyance, sleight, or engine, or by any way or meane, shall lende, gyue, set out, deliuer, or forbeare Lend any summe or summes of money, to any person or persons, or to any corporation, or body politique, to, or for any maner of

The moity of which forfaiture of the said value, shall be to the king, and the other moitie to the partie that will sue for the same in any of the kinges Courtes of record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no wager of lawe, essoyne, or protection shall be allowed or admitted. King 13 ¶ Our soueraigne Lord the king shall haue the ward of al the lands of such as hold of him in chiefe by knightes seruice, whereof the tenants were seised in their demeine as of fee, at the day of their death (of whom soeuer they hold else by like seruice, so that they held of auncient time any land of the Crowne) vntill the heire come to his lawfull age, except the fees of the Archbishop of Caunterbury, the Bishop of Durham, betweene Tyne and Teese, fines of Earles & Barrons in the Marches, where the Kings writtes doe not lie, and whereof the sayd

Also a free Sokeman shall not giue warde nor relieſe, but he shall double his rent after the death of his auncestour, according as he hath vsed to pay, and shall not be vnreasurably greeued. Nowe somewhat is to be said of the nature of hauing wardes. There be two maner of writtes to haue wardes, one is Writtes where landes be holden in knightes seruice, the other is where landes be holden in socage. The ward of land that is holden in knights seruice, belongeth to the chiefe Lord, and mariage, which ought to be without disparagement, as the great charteur limitteth, vntill he commeth to the age of xxi. yeeres. The warde of an heire that holdeth in socage, if the inheritance discend of his mothers side, then it belongeth to the next frend of the fathers side, and contrariwise. And a writte to recouer ward, may be brought in three maners, one is when a man demaundeth ward of the land and of the heire, and that is in case when a man holdeth land of an other by knightes seruice, and the tenant dieth, then may the chiefe lord (if he be deforced) demaund the warde of his lande and heire, and shall haue both warde and mariage. An other maner is when a man is enfeoffed of a rod of land by one man, and by an other, of an other rod, the secõd lord may not bring a writ of warde to recouer either the land or the heire, for the ward belõgeth to the lord, of whõ he was first infeffed. The third maner is where a man hath land in his hands by reason of a ward, and hath not the heire, then he may bring a writ to demaund the heire and not the land. Anno 28. E. 1. stat. of wardes.

7 ¶ William Bucler, which is within age, and in warde of our soueraygne lord the king, hath shewed vnto his highnesse, that where Gawin Butler his brother, (whose heire he is) had impleded one Walter de Hapeton by the kings writte, for waste and destruction made by him in certaine his landes and tenements, which þ same Walter held for terme of his life, of the inheritance of the foresayd Gawin in wimme and Trike: And the aforesaid Gawin before he had obtained iudgement, died. After whose death the foresaid William by like writte impleaded the foresayd Walter, for the wast & destruction made by him of long time. The same Walter before Gilbert Thornton & his companions, alligned to heare the kings pleas, came in & said that he ought not to answere to the same William for the wast and destruction made in the time of another, before the right of the said inheritãce discended vnto him, & thereupon demanded iudgemẽt. And forasmuch as certaine Iusticers did not agree in giuing of the said iudgemẽt, because it seemeth to some that it should not be agreeable to þ lawe, that any person should obtaine aduantage and recompence by the foresayde writte, which is a writte of trespas done to a person certaine, but onely the same person to whom & in whose time the trespasse was done. Other Iustices with the more part of the kings counsell, were in the contrary opinion, alleaging by diuers reasons, that the sayd William ought to be heard and answered vnto, and all other whatsoeuer they be, in like cases, or in like trespasses. And it is commanded by the king him ſelfe vnto the ſame Gilbert Thorneton and his companions, that they doe proceede in the foreſayd matter, and in other like from henceforth, & iudgement ſhalbe giuen according as the matter is founde. And likewiſe it was commaunded vnto the Iuſtices, that they ſhall cauſe all the foreſayd things to be ſtraightly obſerued before them from henceforth. Statute of Waſte. Anno 20. E. 1.
